Where: QUT Innovation Space, Gardens Point, G309

Bring your lunch!

Tue July 26
12:30 – 1:30

Cleantech at QUT
(Graeme Millar)

Prof. Graeme Millar is accelerating Cleantech innovation at QUT by promoting a new business model based upon close co-operation with industry, research institutes and government.

Wed July 27
12:30 – 1:30

Edgware: Entrepreneurs are Weird
(Michael Doneman)

In our experience, the person who becomes an entrepreneur often shares the mindset of artists, inventors, activists and criminals. This kind of weirdness is uncommon and it can be the source of innovation or disruption, or both.

Thur July 28
12:30 – 1:30

Edgware Indigenous: What Business can Learn from Indigenous – Bush Mechanics of Business
(Robert Barton)

Because of their practicality, utility, and social cohesion, the traditions and systems of Indigenous Australians have much to teach those who aspire to meaningful and socially responsible enterprise.

Fri July 29
12:30 – 1.30

Edgware: Starting a Business at University
(Michael Doneman)

Universities can provide a useful environment for generating, nurturing and building a business, or building entrepreneurial skills for application in the workplace.

EDGEWARE

Edgeware Creative Entrepreneurship is a small business development company that focuses on the personal qualities and capacities of the entrepreneur at the heart of a business. We are resident at the QUT Innovation Space, and offer informal courses and coaching as part of our commitment to the space.

Edgeware operates with a DNA characterized by honesty, courage, generosity, humour, compassion, ethical business practice and social responsibility. We believe that skilful, effective and responsible business can change the world.

Edgeware is not only a course, but also a learning environment and a community. It is productive and pragmatic, but is also affirming and great fun.

Make money, have fun, change the world!
